- (1) Half of payment is paid up front, with the remaining half due at completion.
 - (2) For hourly projects, an estimate will be given. Half of that estimate will be paid up front, with adjustments made at the end of the project. For example, a project estimated at 10 hours will require 5 hours paid up front. If the project only takes 8, then only 3 hours' will be due at completion.
 - (3) Work does not begin until payment is received and cashed. Final product will not be turned over until full payment is made, and full payment is due 1 week after completion.
 - (4) There are no friends/family discounts.
 - (5) A "kill clause" of 50% of the remaining balance will be applied if the customer ends the contract early. The initial half of payment is nonrefundable.
 - (6) Once the project is defined, any additions will be charged separately. No "scope creep" or redefining the project is allowed.
 - (7) Once a contract is requested and sent, customer has one week to accept and sign, or the contract will be cancelled and customer will be removed from schedule.
 - (8) Once a contract is signed, customer has one week to submit first half of payment, or the contract will be cancelled.
